

ABOUT THE ILLINOIS BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Since 1891, financial institutions throughout Illinois have looked to the Illinois Bankers Association (IBA) as their primary resource for information, education, government representation, and supporting products and services.

The IBA is a progressive, full-service trade association dedicated to creating a positive business climate that benefits the entire banking industry. Membership includes community banks, regional banks, holding companies, savings associations, savings banks, trust companies, and organizations that serve the banking industry. The IBA is the voice for banks and savings institutions of all sizes, and IBA member banks comprise the vast majority of banking assets and bank employees in our state.

IBA's mission is to represent the Illinois banking industry before state, federal and local legislative and regulatory bodies, to provide Illinois bankers with quality education and innovative training programs, including college level courses, on-line training, self-study and seminar programs, to offer our members the highest quality full-line of products and services, and to promote the positive role of our industry to the general public.

The IBA has two offices: one just blocks from the Illinois State Capitol in Springfield and one in the heart of Chicago's financial district.
